SOUTAR'S SHOP LEDGER

(1930-1941)

of

JAMES MERCHANT
SHOEMAKER
BALLOGIE

© Birse Community Trust. 2000

In 1999, the Soutar (Shoemaker)'s Shop at Ballogie, in the parish of Birse, Aberdeenshire was gifted to Birse Community Trust by the descendants of James Merchant.

Amongst the contents, which had lain untouched since the shop closed in 1941, was a ledger kept as a day by day account of the transactions of the shop during January 1930 and from July 1933 through to June 1941.

The original ledger, which was written mostly in pencil, is in a very fragile state and, in order to make the information contained in it accessible for various purposes without subjecting the original to extensive handling, the document has been transcribed with the addition of an index of names.

It has been reproduced as close to the original as possible which accounts for the wide variation of spelling of names and places. Various abbreviations such as reprd. (repaired), tks.(tackets), were used by the shoemaker and have been copied as written. The financial recording was somewhat erratic with not every transaction priced but it appears that not all repairs or sales were paid for at the time. James Merchant seems to have been happy to receive payment as and when money became available.

There are certain interesting seasonal patterns of sales of working boots, of boots and wellingtons just prior to winter and of sandals or plimsols for the children in the early summer. Over the eight-year period of the ledger there is almost no increase in the cost of individual items.
